127 THAMES STREET.

PRIDAY MORN'G, APRIL 31, 4851. is brom present appearances, the Democrats will have a majority of two in the Senate, and the Whige a majulty of two in the flouse. This will make a tie in Grand Committee, and the Governor will have the casting vote on all party questions. This will enable the Democrate to change all the State officers, provided all their men are true-But there is consolation for all conservative men in the belief that the radicals will hardly dare undertake to carry through any desperate or very ultra measures; the disposition of most of them will be good for anything, but there are some old heads among the headers who will probably be able to commel the majority, and keep their action a little within the bounds of reasen. If they dared, the party would restore Dorr and make him Chief Justice of the Supreme Court; but they have hardly got the plack to venture on this outrageous step.

They also want to establish the se cret bailot, and they want to abolish the payment of the Registry Tax -These are their reforms.

The Whigs who have been negligent of their duty, and there are many hundreds, must assume the responsibility of whatever mischief is done; because if they had worked, as it was their duty, all this trouble would have been prevented and the State would still have been in the hands of frue and conservatitlemen, who have administered the Government for the last 11 years.

We trust that much good will come entof this revolution, and that the Whigs will arouse to a proper sense of their duty; and that hereafter they will not only bury all differences and dissentions, and divest themselves of all personal auchition,-but that they will learn a profitable lesson by this defeat. Let them be made sensible that i is their duty to labor for the party and for the principles of the party, irrespective of personal considerations and preferments. When the party desire the services of any man, they will surely call him into their employ; and every man sust bide resulted at fionor at many a faithful in all odings to his party, by acquiescing in their wishes, and not attempting to dictate terms to them at his will and pleasure.

If this profitable lesson is learned and neted upon, our present defeat will prove rather a blessing than a curse.-We can contend with our open and acknowledged political enemies,-hut when we have to fight not only them, but some who are in our own ranks, the hattle becomes a little too fierce and defeat most inevitably follow .-We have every reason to believe that the effects of the late election will be most salutary upon the Whig party; und in that case we shall not have so much to regretationall.

ozolidq bun barutan-beng ruUTI phical friend, Daniel Brown, of Block Island Missionary memory, takes a little exception to what we said yesterday in favor of giving the Democratic candi dates for State officers some instruction in realing and writing. We are willing to admit that there are a few exceptions Daniel, for instance, can write his name and he can distinguish a three dollar 44 ; but he could not tell whether his friend's munic was on the voting list, on Plack Island, although his triend thought if was there!

We forget to mention, before, that when Daniel went to the Isl skulked off in the night, so that it might not be known that he had gone. The eta was very rough, and the valiant Daniel because terribly frightened; he implaced the boatman to bring him back, and promised true repentance for his political sins, if he would to so. Dantel finally consoled himself with the thought that St. Paul was saved from shipwreck, when on a Mission, and trusted, therefore, that he should be also. We rather think that this was the first time that Daniel ever confided in a higher power than the Democracy.

THE MORAL INFLUENCE OF ONIONS.-A Paris correspondent of the Journal of Commerce suggests that the low condition of morals among the French is attributed to the National fondness for, and use of, onions. This vegetable containing more than any other, an amount of sulpher and phosphorus. The writer contends that a people moving in an atmosphere if sulpher, an almosphere in which the great father of evil is supposed to be most at home, cannot be us susceptible to moral impressions as others. Just think of the morals of the community rising and falling with the price of onious, and the milder and higher graces of humanity grawing out of the short crop of those infernal bulbs! Imagine the mistake of a steak with onions! Think of sipping sin with soup; Think of these things Cape Codites and Weatherfieldi-onions.

THE LATE PARKER H. PRENCH.-The Louisville Courier gives the following sketch of Capt. Parker H. French, whose criminal career has been fately cut short at the hands of lynchers in

But a few short years since, we knew French as a lad, whose reputation was without blemish or repreach, and whose daily walk was such as not only to win the confidence and esteem of his employer, but of the entire community in which he then resided. Of a mild and smial le dispositione with husiness habits rarely met with in one of his tender age: enjoying the confidence of those able and willing to assist him in mercantile pursuits, which few with imited means could command, he commenced his commercial career in St. Louis some three years since, under prospects regarded the most flattering and promising. For a season he upparently was basking in the sunshine of prosperity, during which period he wood and won the accomplished daughter of one of the most estimable and distinguished citizens of a neighboring

A revulsion in his affairs however, speedily following his marriage, we next hear of him in New York, where he sought to regain his shattered fortunes, as the originator of an expedition across the country for the transportation of emigrants to California. He left with by wards of 200 passengers, and in Texas commenced those depredations upon society, which has resulted in his payna ifmonumpon special 128 stubical. He seems from the beginning to have thrown off all moral restraint, and to have given up to a desperation that is seldom met with in the most hardened criminal, much less in one who may be said to have been but a novice in crime. To the crime of forgery he soon added robbery, and finally ended the catalogue of his transgressions by becoming a murderer. There survives him a wife, whose hopes on earth are crushed forever, and a levely infant daughter, upon whom, should she live, a cold and heartless world will east its frowns, on account of the sins of the

IT Some one who was on board the ill-fated Oregon, which Intely exploded on her passage from Louisville, scalding and killing 60 persons, speaking of the scene of horror, says :- " Men, women and children were collected logether on the after part of the bont without any possible means of getting away, only by throwing themselves into the river; the flames surrounding them in an awful grandeur, and the steps carried away be the explosion, the shricks of the women, the frenzy of men ready to leap overboard, in order to avoid a still more horrible death by fire, the groans of the scalded and dying, logether with the piteous lowing of the cattle, and neigh ing of the borses a scene well calculated to arouse the deepest feelings of our nature."

SUDDEN DEATH OF MR. AUSTIN PHIL tirs .-- We regret to learn that the celchrated vocalist and composer, Austin Phillips, fell dead in the street, about Il o'clock last night, at the corner of Spring street and Wooster. His death will be deeply regretted, for whatever his errors, he was a highly talented man; a delightful social companion. and a warm und sincere friend. His errors were all of the head, not the heart; and sone who knew him, will hear of his sudden death, unmoved, or fail to drop a tear of sympathy over his grave.

Washington born in England?" which has been going the rounds, and the fact that he was bona on Popule creek in Westmereland county, Va. suys: "A viole, with a suitable juscription, places more we has live by Mr. Custis, some years ago. marks the site of the house in which the Father of his Country first saw the light."

Tax Silent Lovers,-As eminest clergyman one evening became the subject of conversation, and a wonder was expressed that he had never married. "That wonder," said Miss Porter. was once expressed to the reverend gentleman himself, in my hearing, and he told a story in answer, which I will tell you, and perhaps, slight as it 'may seem, it is the history of other hearts as sensitive and delicate as his own,

Soon after hie ordination, he preach ed once every Sabhath for a clergyman in a small village not twenty miles from London. Among his applicate from Sunday to Sunday, he observed a young lady, who occupied a certain scat, and whose close attention began insensibly to grow to him an object of thought and pleasure. She left the church as soon as service was overand it so chanced that he went for a year without ever knowing her name; but his sermon was never written without many a thought how she would approve it, nor preached with satisfaction unless he read approbation in her face.

Gradually be came to think of her at other times than when writing scripons, and to wish to see her on other days than Sundays; but the weeks stepped on, and though he fancied that she grew paler and thinner, he never brought himself to the resolution cittler to ask her name or to speak with ther. By these silent steps, however, love had worked into his heart, and he made up his mind to seek her acquaintance and marry her, if possible, when one day he was sent for to minister at a funeral.

*The face of the corpse was the same that had looked up at him Sunday after Sunday, till lie had learned to make it a part of his religion and his dife. He was unable to perform the gervice, and another elergyman officiated; and, after she was buried, her father took, him aside, and begged his pardon for giving him pain, but he could not resist the impulse to tell him that his daughter had mentioned his name with her last breath, and he was offaid that a concealed affection for him had hurried her to the grave. "Since that," said the clergyman in question, " my beart has beed dead within me, and I look forward to the time when I shall speak to her in heaven."

GENUINE PAIN EXTRACTOR.

(Not Theoretically, but) Practicelly Illustrated From Nowle's Similar Times, of Feb. 2,1551.

MOT A PUFF—A few days ago the clothes of the little doughter of one of the proprietions of this paper accidentally took fire, and its gracelinalises, in her endeavors to extinguish the finness, was unfortunate enough to hem one of her lands to a liftseer. She was suffering great agony, and the only roundly immediately available being Dalley's Pain Extractor, that was freely applied, larredible as it may aren, the next sorning the effect of the larn had entirely disspectivel, and the hand was as sound as ever. As this occurred under our own personal rotter, we cannot refrain from advising every family to have a supply of it within reach in ease of accident. The deput for its rale is at the corner of lirocdway and Lispeniar's treet.

"A GREAT MEDICINE."

"We have uniforally efficiently convinced of their value. Among these we consider worthy of notice in the Grown Enter, inverted by Dr.
Hundand, and prepared by Dr. Jackson, in Phila delphia. One instance in particular, in which the superior virtus of this medicine has been tested, has fallen under certaberevation. During the last summer, a son of Mr. Alurahum Crabill, 64 this county, was very seriously afflicted with Liver Complaint, and after twing in vain various runedies, he purchased a bottle of the Bitters, and after using it, was so much relieved of this distressing malady, that he procured another bottle, and is restored yentirel to "chealth"

"It is very addom that we make any allasien to Patent Medicines, other approving or other wise. Unfortunately for the country, and for honest and conscientions inventors and venders of these medicines, the land is becoming flooded with quark preparations, that are make alone for profit, and are first even for the degs. In this state of things it is hard to tell which are, and which are not worth having. If a person gets an indifferent modificial the first time he purchoses, he is very apt to can bean the whole of them and bay so thore, and inventors must only kinne those of their number, (who igeorandy combine plain medicine) for the lifectors which attends the effect of the deserving."

"We believe Dr. C. M. Jackson's! Hoofland's German Bitters," to be a most excellent medicine, and one that should be highly popular in these days of Temperanen—For they are altogether Vegetable in their compasition, without one drop of Alcobotic Spirits in them. This medicine is innovent, but strengthening in its effects, and richly deserving of an unbounded popularity, which, when it becomes known, it will, no doubt, fully enjoy."

Judge M. M. Noah raid, in his "Weekly Messenger," Jameny 6, 1850.

"Dr. Huefkand's German Buttes.—Here is a preparation which the leading pressess in the Union appear to be unanimous the necommending, and the reason is obvious. It is made after a prescription formished by one of the most relevanted physicians of modern times—the kie Dr. Christopher Wilhelm Hoofland, professor to the University of Jena, givate physicians to the kiep of Prussia, and one of the greatest nedical writers Germany has ever produced. He was emplastically the enemy of humbry, and therefore a medicine of which he was the inventor and emforser may be confidently relied on. He specially techniqued, Concipiant, Dyspeptia, Dubility, Vertigo, Acidity of the Stomach, Countipation, and all complaints arising from a dinordered condition of the stomach, the liver and the intestines. Nine Philadelphia papers express their conviction of its exerchence, and several of the editors speak of its effects from their own insirthal exprisers. Under these virumstances, we fed warranted, not only in call ing the attention of our readers to the present propuedry's (Dr. C. M. Jackson's) pertation, but la recommending the naticle to all affaired."

The editor says of DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS: The oblitor says of DR. HOOT LAND'S GERMAN BITTERS:

"It is seldom that we recommend what are terroad l'atent Mediciars to the confidence and set trongs of our readers; and, therefore, when we recommend Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, we wish it to be distinctly understood that we are not speaking of the nostroms of the day, that are noisel about for a brief period and then forgotten after it has done its guilty rare of mischief, but of a medicine long established, murerally prized, and which has met the hearty approlation of the faculty intell?

Lividence upon evidence has been received (like the foregoing) from all sections of the Union, the last three years, and the strongest testimony in its favor, is, that there is more of it used in the practice of the regular Physicians of Philadelphia, than all other most must condinced, a fax dust can easily be established, and fully growing that a scientife preparation will meet aith their quiet approvat when presented even in this form.
